LETTER FROM NEW YORK

[illegible]

NEW YORK, Sept. 11, 1865.

KETCHUM THE FORGER,

Has been indicted on eleven different counts for forgery and one for larceny. The case in the Tombs court has been abandoned by the District Attorney and proceedings will be commenced immediately under the indictments in the court of General Sessions. There were eleven indictments for forgery in the third degree, which may be classified as follows:

One for uttering sixty nine checks to the Importers' and Traders' Bank; one for uttering thirty two checks to the Fourth National Bank; one for uttering sixteen checks to Dabney & Morgan; one for making a check on Morgan and using it on Van Hoffman; one for making a check and using it on Marcuard; two for making a check and using it on the Fourth National Bank; one for making a check and using it on Dabney & Morgan; one for grand larceny in converting to his own use a package containing $75,000 in five twenties, the property of the State Bank of Hartford, and deposited for safe keeping only.

RETURN OF SPECIE PAYMENT.

A return of specie payment is a subject of general public interest—in fact it is felt to be a necessity. The people here envy the citizens of the Golden State who have never been compelled by the pressure of circumstances to depart from a hard currency, and how we of the Atlantic States shall return to the good old days when a five dollar bill represented five dollars in gold, when silver was plentiful and fractional currency unknown, is a question of vital importance to all. The ways are two—viz: the repeal of the Legal Tender act, and the funding of the currency without previously repealing the Legal Tender act. The high price of everything needed by housekeepers renders it a matter of prime necessity that one or the other shall soon be done, and it is anticipated that Congress at its next session will inaugurate proceedings looking to this desired end. The repeal of the Legal Tender act is, however, the most likely action, as well as the most feasible as leading to no difficulties, while the other might be the cause of many.

ANDY JOHNSON'S

Address to the delegations from the Southern States on Monday has created a sensation in this city. Unless the Southerners he [illegible] (and some of them have really shown themselves but little less) have hearts of stone, this speech must bring to them a realizing sense of their position. The spirit of forgiveness which pervades it, the fatherly kindness, yet Roman firmness, in which he treats and condemns the secession movement—the brotherly appeal he makes for all—North, South, East and West—to come forward and aid in the great necessary work of repairing the damage and healing the wounds of the war, must touch the hearts of all patriotic men not only of this country, but throughout the world. His Republican simplicity and kind hearted plainness was such as could be found only in the family circle, and how appropriate to an occasion which sprung from a purely Republican and family matter. So much for the manner. The matter was equally important. His disavowal of asperity, so far as he was concerned, toward the South; his declaration of the Government's being entirely free from any desire to avenge anything; and his advice to not let any speeches expressing contrary views trouble them, were all important declarations. But the candor and frankness with which he acknowledged that, with his Southern brethren, he was responsible for the miseries through which the country has just passed, and as a Southerner announced that he would do all in his power to make good again what had been destroyed, showed that Andrew Johnson possesses a heart as full of honor and patriotism as it is of humanity. As I said before, if this speech does not bring the Southerners to their senses and make good and loyal citizens of them for all time, then they are indeed inhuman monsters.

THE PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Just now we are inundated with Englishmen and other foreigners interested in the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad. A large crowd came over in the Scotia a week or more ago, and are now at the West, viewing their property, inspecting the oil district and enjoying themselves generally. At the head of the party are James McHenry and Sir Morton Peto. The former, through the instrumentation of an able engineer, Mr Kinnard, constructed in war times the railroad named above in a shorter space of time than such a thing had ever before occurred in this country. Sir Morton is understood to have in his employ in various parts of the world nearly or quite one hundred thousand men at work on the railroads in whose construction he is interested. Mr McHenry is an American, who was for many years a prominent Liverpool merchant, and who, during the financial panic of 1857, went in the general wreck but contrived to pay all his debts. One of these, amounting to $20,000, was actually paid twice, through some trick of the law. He then went to London with no money but a sterling character. Entering heartily into the Atlantic and Great Western enterprise, his reputation enabled him to raise in two or three years, twenty five millions of dollars and to build seven hundred and fifty miles of railroad, connecting the Erie and the Ohio and Mississippi roads. These gentlemen with the Marquis of Salamanca and others are reported to now own a controlling interest in the Erie road, the union of which with the road they have constructed is but a matter of a little time. The rare energy and ability they have displayed encourage the hope that they will take hold of the Pacific Railroad. Its construction within a reasonable period could then be counted upon as a certainty. I have reason to believe they think seriously of the project, and shall feel gratified to be able to chronicle that they have taken hold of it in earnest.

SOUTHERN EMIGRATION.

An institution called the Southern Land Company has started an agency here, which is already doing a large business in securing emigrants to the Southern States and selling to those who are in a position to buy eligible lands in various parts of the South. Its agents estimate the emigration of Northerners to the South this season at one hundred thousand.

THE PACIFIC MAIL COMPANY

Are, I hear, soon to start a line of steamships between New York, Southampton and Havre. The China line will not go into operation until 1867, and new steamers are to be built for the route. The Colorado and [illegible] burn too much coal for that line, and will, with probably the Golden Age and the Henry Chauncey, take their places on the European route. I judge the company will build new steamers for the China route, as [illegible] and a half as expensive in the matter of coal. The [illegible] and [illegible] of the Cunard line, are quite as fast as any side wheel ocean steamers on the Atlantic, and it is quite possible that in the future, propellers will be built faster than their more expensive rivals. The Herald says the Pacific Mail Company have contracted to build four first-class side wheel steamships of [illegible] to [illegible] tons for the China route. As I have said, however, I judge they will build screw steamers, as being equally fast and better adapted from their smaller consumption of coal to the long route from San Francisco to Honolulu, Kanagawa and Hong Kong. As to the line to Havre, I am assured it will soon go into operation. The Henry Chauncey last week [illegible] the pier at the foot of Canal street, and is likely to be ready for service. The other vessels are also approaching completion.

Speaking of steamship lines, I see that Vanderbilt's, or rather the Atlantic Mail Company's steamship Costa Rica [illegible] leave this port for Rio Janeiro on the 28th inst., as the pioneer ship of the new mail line between New York, St. Thomas, Pernambuco, Bahia and Rio Janeiro. The contract for carrying the mail monthly is a compromise between the house of Aspinwall & Co. of this city and Rio Janeiro, and that of commodore C. K. Garrison, each owning one half. Congress at its last session granted a conditional subsidy of $150,000 annually for ten years, provided the Brazilian Government would do the same. This the Emperor agreed to do, and the result is, the immediate starting of the line. Aspinwall & Co. had, I believe, purchased the splendid fast screw steamers Merrimac and Mississippi, built at Boston for the New Orleans trade, and for some time in the Government employ, but by virtue of the compromise made with the Atlantic Mail Company will run instead, two of the latter company's vessels. The second has not yet been designated.

A NEGRO MASS MEETING.

A strange and significant feature in Alabama politics was held at Huntsville, Ala., August 23. About two thousand former slaves were present. They were addressed by Gen. Fisk, of the Freedmen's Bureau, who told them that whatever was detrimental to the black man was detrimental alike to the white man. He had hoped to be able to loan some abandoned plantations to them, but as President Johnson, he believed, "was going to pardon all the rebels," their prospects were not so good in this respect as they had been. He advised them to live morally, to work on shares, and to disabuse their minds of the notion that their old masters' estates were going to be cut up amongst them. He told them they should have justice and fair play, but otherwise, they must work out their own salvation." The conduct of the assemblage is stated to have been unexceptionable, and the General's speech produced a good effect on all present.

THE PRESIDENT ON PARDONS.

In a letter to Governor Pierpont, of Virginia, Attorney General Speed takes occasion to state for the information of rebels seeking pardon, that the only influence that can be exerted by agents or attorneys in the matter of applications is to delay the applicant's petition. As a fitting reply to the malicious insinuations of vindictive traitors that money influences the decisions of President Johnson in cases submitted to him for pardon the Attorney General says the President pronounces any such intimations a gross insult, not only to himself but to every one officially connected with him, even down to his lowest messenger.

THE CHOLERA.

I find that a good deal of concern, almost apprehension in fact, is felt about the cholera, which has made such fearful havoc in many places across the Atlantic. Many people are strongly impressed with the conviction that the dreaded evil will be among us next Summer, and bring death and destruction in our midst. Not being of the scary nature myself, I have no feeling of the kind, but I am impressed fully that the sharp cold winds of Winter will check the forward march of the disease, and therefore think that all alarm may be dismissed, at any rate until there are more visible signs than there are now of its taking a voyage across the Atlantic.

THE "SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY."

One of the most useful institutions of late years is the "Safe Deposit Company," a newly started affair, but one which is already doing a large business. The "Safe Deposit Company" has a charter from the Legislature, under which it guarantees the safety of articles entrusted to its keeping, to which its business is limited, and for which its charges are required to be low. The concern is located in the fire proof building of the American Bank Note Company on Broadway. A series of small safes in one of the vaults is rented to bankers and others, who have keys, and have entrance thereto in the presence of attendants. Another safe for the storing of Government bonds, can be entered only by the President and Secretary of the Company. In another safe, sealed packages can be deposited, and in still another silver plate, coin and jewelry are stored. The Company give a receipt, which is a curiosity in its way, [for it describes the person making the deposit minutely, even to a small scar] for the property, and guarantees its return or the payment of its full value. The capital of the Company is $500,000, and its stockholders are liable to twice that amount. It is a very excellent institution, and will doubtless be imitated in all sections of the country.

THE KETCHUM'S

Are to resume business. At a recent meeting of the creditors of Morris Ketchum, Sons & Co., terms for settlement on a basis of sixty per cent of the amount of claims, were accepted. It was also agreed that the firm should be at liberty to resume business. Their liabilities are about four millions of dollars. Several letters were read, including two or three from junior members of the firm showing that something was known by them months ago in relation to young Edward's abstracting the securities deposited with the house.

THE FEARFUL RAILROAD DISASTER

On Long Island has been investigated by a Coroner's Jury, who returned a verdict censuring Oliver Charlick, President of the Railroad Company, as indirectly responsible, owing to the careless manner in which the trains are run, blaming the engineers and conductors, etc. There appears to have been a variety of opinion on the part of the jury as to which engineers and conductors were at fault, some censuring those on the mail train, some those of the express train, and some both. There is such a contrariety of views embraced in the different parts of the verdict, that this is probably the last that will be heard of a crime which deserved the extremest punishment of the law.

ANOTHER DEFALCATION.

On the development of the Ketchum defalcation in this city, the officers of the State Bank of Hartford, Connecticut, which had deposits with the Ketchum firm, instituted an investigation of the affairs of the institution, and made the somewhat surprising discovery that the cashier, W. H. D. Callender, was indebted to the bank to the amount of two hundred thousand dollars. He has made an assignment to the bank of one hundred thousand dollars, and some other property belonging to him has been attached. He has not been arrested, and it is supposed that he will not be.

THE CUSTOM HOUSE.

The ponderous form of Preston King has been installed in the Collector's office, and Moses F. Odell has taken his position as Naval Officer. Only a few changes have as yet been made in the minor offices including a few appointments of disabled soldiers to positions they are able to fill. It is said the new collector has ordered a coach with doors of extra width for his accommodation in consequence of a failure in an attempt to enter an ordinary hack one rainy day when desirous of going from his residence to the Custom House.

MISCEGENATION

Don't work well in all cases. An instance of this sort of love, no matter how true it might, at some time have been, becoming rather rough, was brought to the notice of one of our magistrates a few days since. An "unbleached citizen," as they call our dusky fellow beings at the South, was married to a blooming daughter of the Emerald Isle. She loved him, perhaps for the persecutions his race had suffered. And he loved her that she did pity them. All went on happily for a while. But at length Sambo (I think that was his name) became absent minded, and this was followed by absent bodied, towards his spouse. He was at last discovered in close communion with a dark skinned damsel, as dark as himself, and brought up for desertion of his lawful wedded wife. The magistrate asked him what response he had to make to the complaint. Sambo drew a long breath and then said "I got dis to say: I can't lib wid a woman dat chaws snuff and plays policy—an' I won't. Dat's all," and he brought his fist down upon the table in front of him with emphasis and much earnestness. Of course the magistrate was forced by his oath of office to fill up a commitment for Sambo, and he now "lies" in the Tombs.

THAT BLATANT TRAITOR,

Henry A. Wise has had the extreme impudence to write a long winded letter to General Terry asking for a return of his property in Princess Anne county, Virginia, in which he argues the Constitutional questions involved with his usual verbosity. He pretends to rejoice at the abolition of slavery, and ridiculously enough asserts that he was an anti slavery man before the war commenced. Wise is certainly the greatest fool who has lately appeared before the public, if he imagines anybody with an ounce of brains will believe his [illegible]ifying story.

THE STEAMER LOAD OF LADIES

For Washington Territory, is expected to leave Boston on the 18th inst. Hon. Mr. Mercer has at last obtained the steamer Continental, as a [illegible] vessel to convey the [illegible] en route to their place of destination. It is to be hoped the cargo will not turn out [illegible] did in the early days of the American settlement of California.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

FRIDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 20, 1865

Our Uncultivated Farming Lands

In order to prepare the way for the future prosperity of Oregon, there needs to be a better system of farming than many among us have yet adopted, and also some arrangement with the present land owners whereby large tracts of our most valuable and fertile lands now lying idle may be brought into cultivation. In other words we ought to devise some way to produce and export more than we have yet done. The very high prices which several kinds of farm products command in our markets shows plainly that the supply is not at all commensurate with the demand. The numerous mining districts which we are furnishing with food, afford us a steady market for nearly all that we produce. Of fruit there is a great abundance at comparatively low prices. But it seems as if our fruit growers and farmers are every year paying less attention to their orchards, and this being the case, it may be predicted that the time will come when from the decay of old trees and the neglect of farmers to plant new ones even fruit, now considered an almost valueless commodity, will be a profitable crop.

But these last remarks are aside from our purpose at this time. We think it will be granted that we ought to produce all we can, and that there is now little danger of our farmers bringing more of the products of the soil into the market than will meet with a ready and profitable sale. How to increase the quantity of our farm products—the main source of the wealth of the great valley—is a question to be asked. As we said a moment ago, we ought to have better farming and more of it. Our uncultivated lands should no longer be idle. Not a third perhaps not a sixth part of this valley is now cultivated. By far the larger portion is serving no valuable purpose. In some localities these uncultivated lands afford a meagre subsistence for small bands of stock during the early part of summer, or until the season of drought comes on, and after that time are of no use what ever. Were hay or grain grown on them the crop would be a source of profit in one way or an other to the owners.

The time has been when labor could not be obtained here so as to enable farmers to raise large crops, and again the market for the products of the farm has sometimes been so low that they could not afford to employ hired labor. But now the markets are good and labor can be had without so much difficulty as formerly. We have had a large accession to our population this summer and fall. The people who are coming among us are able and willing to work. Most of them, without doubt, come for that purpose. We learn that it is quite difficult for many of them to find situations in this valley. There is land enough for all, and five times as many more, but in many cases the proprietors are willing neither to sell nor rent. If they do not wish to sell, we think the best thing that the owners of considerable bodies of uncultivated land could do, would be to let those who are willing to work, have leases. Lands that are now of no service at all could thus be made to yield a return to the proprietors. The immigrants would also be provided with homes and with employment and the proceeds of their labor would greatly increase the wealth of the State.

We want a larger population, but we shall not get it unless we give those who come among us a chance to make a living. It is worth while to consider this matter. It is not good policy to repel those who may wish to make homes here. We should adopt the opposite course, and invite them to come, and when they get here we should treat them with liberality.

The Reason.—Admiral Goldsborough writes that not having been invited to be present at the naval review at Cherbourg, he did not allow any of his squadron to be in that vicinity. The cause of non-invitation was that he had orders not to salute the English flag, and so Napoleon, thinking his presence under such circumstances might breed coldness, stiffness and general uncomfortableness, did not invite our Admiral to participate in the festivities. Why this order was given to Admiral Goldsborough, as well as to all other commanders of National vessels, is thus explained by the Washington correspondent of Forney's Philadelphia Press:

"The fact stands thus. The moment the war ended, the President directed that all the nations with which we are at peace should be officially informed of the fact. The first to extend the proper courtesy and to assert the principles of international maritime law, was the Netherlands, by withdrawing even a partial concession of belligerent rights to the rebels. She was followed by Spain and other European powers, leaving England to come almost at the last and then with such an incomplete stat[illegible] as to show not alone the regret of her aristocracy at the success of American arms, but to establish, beyond controversy, the complicity of many of her leading merchants and capitalists with the business of blockade-running, and the fitting out and arming of rebel corsairs. To this day England insists upon the twenty-four hour rule, as if, indeed, to give a chance to the pirate Shenandoah and one or two other rebel vessels to escape the watchful vigilance of such of our ships as are lying in wait for them. Finding, then, that England has not done what other powers have done, Admiral Goldsborough and the commanders of all National vessels are instructed not to salute the English flag wherever they may meet it until they are duly informed that the rights extended by us to other Governments, and by all other Governments extended to us, are also admitted and proclaimed by the British Government."

Stock on the Chico Route—Indian Troubles.—A gentleman well informed concerning matters in the upper country assures us that the report of stock having been run off by the Indians on the Chico line of travel, destroying most of the stations and breaking up communication between Owyhee and California, is incorrect. He asserts that the Stage Company had no stock to lose. They have been in the habit of using wild Cayuse horses and running them through the entire distance. On one occasion as the stage was nearing Crooked Creek Station the team gave entirely out, and the passengers hauled the wagon in to the station. A Chinaman passenger who became disgusted with the proceeding walked on ahead, and his body was found where the Indians had killed him. As to the company losing any stock it is false. Our informant further states that the route has been well protected by the military. Oregon soldiers under command of Captains Borland and Powell have been stationed from Camp Lyon to Pueblo, and from the last named point in to Chico the California District have afforded protection. The fact that the coaches will not be started again until next year is simply because the line is a failure in toto. The troops in the upper country are well distributed and calculated, if necessary, to maintain a war for the extermination of the whole race of redskins. A winter campaign, our informant tells us, has been decided upon. During the season past more damage has been done to the Indians than ever before since the discovery of gold east of the Cascade range. The predatory bands have been pursued and so often broken up and destroyed that they begin to feel anxious for peace—perhaps on a basis of being let alone for the winter. Instances are rare in which they are engaged in stock stealing, except occasionally when they are impelled to obtain food for themselves and steal cattle. In the matter of complaint about the military not affording protection we can say with the greatest confidence in the integrity of our informant that every protection has been afforded that was possible to every section. The cavalry have literally worked their animals down in giving escorts, and scouting, and in some cases have been subjected to the meanest abuse from citizens. As an instance: A short time ago an express was received at headquarters in camp that Indians had made a raid on [illegible] Creek driving off stock and pillaging; that the settlers were fortified, etc. A detachment was immediately sent to the place and on arriving there no trace of Indians was to be found, and there had been any Indians there for months. It was a smart trick of Democrats up on the [illegible] to get soldiers and an attempt was made on the part of some to [illegible] over it. Such is the encouragement given by the [illegible] class of people in the upper country to the class that is and maintained at great expense to the Government to give them protection. We are assured that when Indians are to be found accounts will be thrown out. They can have no peace until they conclude to be quiet, and it is necessary that the settlers and all others give the military as little extra trouble as possible.

From the Mines.—We are indebted to [illegible] for a file of late papers from the upper country by Wells Fargo & Co's Express last evening, from which we glean the following:

Gen. Meagher, Secretary and acting Governor of Montana Territory, has arrived at Virginia City. He addressed the citizens of Bannack on the 2d of September. In the course of his remarks General Meagher said that in this Territory [illegible] he had been [illegible] rebels [illegible] the late war [illegible] South [illegible] was terminated, and when such gallant soldiers as Gen. R[illegible] and Wade Hampton [illegible] only [illegible] the sound of the trumpet at a distance [illegible] which they now share [illegible] Hall [illegible]

The most favorable reports of the Montana mines and the new discoveries are [illegible] the vicinity [illegible] Next season will witness a stampede to the Blackfoot mines, in magnitude [illegible] precedent.

The Vigilantes of Montana are particularly active. Five men have been hung in the mines in ten days. [illegible] who killed [illegible] Lewiston was hung [illegible] was [illegible]

The Owyhee [illegible] in reviewing the mines [illegible] gives the following of [illegible] the Oro Fino lodge:

This lodge was discovered in July, 1864, by Messrs. Smith, Nelson, Gilpin and Carroll, and was recorded August 1st of the same year. During the fall Messrs. M[illegible] & [illegible] purchased a large interest and prosecuted work on it until October, 1864, when the first rock was crushed. The shaft sunk on the lodge is one hundred and eighty feet deep, and the [illegible] the clear. The rock was [illegible] yield[illegible] over $110,000 and [illegible] While on a visit there this week we picked rock out of the lodge within [illegible] feet of the shaft [illegible] hundred and fifty feet below [illegible] in which [illegible] of gold could be seen [illegible]. The same can be [illegible] in any portion of the lodge. The main tunnel is five hundred and sixty five feet in length and strikes the shaft one hundred and fifty feet below the surface. The [illegible] furnishes rock for the Morning Star and Minour mills, and the lodge is well opened so that three times the amount might be taken out. Timber is plenty right at the mine. The mine is about two and a half miles from the mill, to which there is a substantial road of easy grade.

The Umatilla Advertiser gives an account of a shooting match the other day between Martin Devine and Adam McNeely, near Umatilla, in which nine shots were fired and no blood drawn. Devine was fined $[illegible] for an aggravated assault.

The Mountaineer of yesterday says: Fifty tons of Government freight, by the Canyon City road for Boise, left on the 18th, at 13 90-100c. Bids for freight to Indian Springs were rejected and arrangements have been made to send it forward at a more reasonable figure than the bidders were disposed to offer. There is still an active inquiry for teams to go direct to Boise, and good terms can be obtained by teamsters to that point.

The Late Earthquake at San Francisco.—Files of San Francisco papers received by steamer give many amusing incidents of the late heavy earthquake there, and the one of the following morning. The Bulletin of October 10th has the following:

Mrs. Heringh[illegible], residing on O'Farrell street near Larkin, after the first shock sent her Irish servant up stairs for her baby. The girl ascended the stairs at a 2:40 gait, but instead of returning with the baby, she came down stairs with a trunk on her back and a Bible in her hand.

The shock at a quarter before 11 o'clock this forenoon produced quite a panic in the public schools—the scholars rushing in a body for the street. In order to avoid any casualties that might result from the fright and the attempt to escape from the building, most of the scholars were dismissed for the day.

After the severe shaking to which the City Hall was subjected yesterday, with the yawning gaps staring the Judges and lawyers in the face, it was very natural that they should be indisposed to remain in the building while it underwent another siege like that of yesterday.

Several of the Courts were in session at the time of the shock this morning, when the lawyers and spectators broke for the doors, some of them leaving their hats behind them, returning only when their fears had subsided. Under the circumstances it was deemed advisable to adjourn the Courts, which was accordingly done.

The services at most of the churches were about closing, and in some the congregations were retiring. At St. Mary's Cathedral a scene of the wildest excitement ensued, the immense building being crowded, and the difficulty of getting out adding greatly to the excitement of the scene.

At Rev. Mr. Stebbin's Church, on Geary street, the last hymn was being sung when the shock came. The first shock created no alarm, but the second shook down the main pipe of the organ, which fell with a crash among the choristers, while at the same moment large pieces of plastering and ornamental stucco came down, and the immense building swayed back and forth, giving the impression to the congregation that the church was falling, and causing a general rush for the door—men climbing over the backs of seats and even over the heads of each other in their flight.

At Dr. Scudder's church similar scenes of wild excitement ensued, one woman fainting away while others screamed with terror.

At St. Francis' Cathedral, on Vallejo street, the doors were broken off by the crowd in their frantic endeavors to gain the street, and in all the houses of worship throughout the city the congregations fled from the buildings as fast as circumstances would permit them.

At the Second Baptist Church the Rev. B. S. McLafferty, of Virginia City, was preaching. In the midst of the alarm and general rushing for the door consequent on the shock, his voice was heard exhorting the congregation to keep quiet and exclaiming with great calmness and presence of mind, "Though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, yet will I fear no evil."

The effect of the earthquake on the waters of Mission Bay and the Long Bridge was even more frightful than on shore. The waters of the bay surged and boiled, not rolling in any particular direction, but apparently bursting up perpendicularly as though the earth beneath was in terrible commotion. So severe was the combined effect of the waters surging and the shock of the earthquake, that it was impossible to stand upright, and those who were upon the bridge were compelled to fall upon their faces until the commotion was over. Several were thrown from their feet, and after matters had resumed the usual appearance a number of people who had been thus rudely leveled were found to be insensible through fear and the sudden shock to their nervous system.

Captain Josselyn, of the schooner [illegible], from Monterey, reports having experienced the earthquake when about twenty two miles off Point New Years, at about half past twelve o'clock on Sunday. He was at dinner at the time, and his first thought was that the vessel had struck a rock where none was marked upon the chart. The shock was heavy enough to jar the dishes on the table. The sea was very smooth at the time, but in about half an hour it became very rough, more so than is generally experienced on that coast. There were some seven or eight passengers on board at the time, and one of them suggested that it might be an earthquake, the earthquake of the time.

A summary of earthquakes felt in California from 1850 to the close of 1863 shows the number to be 111. The greatest number occurred in the month of January and the least in the months of February and April. 31 occurred in the winter months, 21 in the summer months, 21 in the spring months, and [illegible] in the autumn months. The number of [illegible] between the autumnal and vernal equinoxes was 6[illegible] between the vernal and autumnal equinoxes [illegible]

Rome and the Cholera.—To avoid the cholera every precaution has been taken in Rome, great cleanliness enforced, and a strict surveillance exercised over the sale of fruit and vegetables. The [illegible] of the Piazza Navona has also been forbidden this year, lest the exhalations might prove prejudicial to the public health, and isolated wards have been prepared in most of the great hospitals for the reception of any chance cases.

Extra Billy Smith.—Extra Billy Smith arrived in Washington [illegible] evening from Richmond, September [illegible]. He is very hostile and notwithstanding [illegible] that he would suffer damnation before applying to [illegible] for pardon, he is as eager to get hold of the precious document as any of his rebellious comrades. Billy is [illegible] sorrowful [illegible]

During the late war our people spent in aid of the soldiers of the Republic no less than $212,271,249.45. This is exclusive of the government expenditures, and $187,209,608.62 of the sum was contributed by States, counties and towns for the aid and relief of soldiers and their families, while individuals and associations contributed for the soldiers about $25,000,000 more.

AGENTS WANTED

FOR

The Secret Service, the Field, the Dungeon, and the Escape.

BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune's Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY.

THE MOST INTERESTING AND EXCITING BOOK ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled Experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of the Tribune at the outbreak of the war with our armies and fleets both East and West during the first two years of the Rebellion. His thrilling capture, his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons, his escape and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events and contain more of the fire and interest of the war than any other work yet published. Horace Greeley says [illegible]

INDIAN [illegible] NEAR FORT BENTON.—Between the 24th and [illegible], says the Montana Post, a train of wagons, sixteen in number, principally owned by Col. Marshal, of St. Louis, and [illegible] an old mountaineer [illegible] about sixty miles on the [illegible] came suddenly upon the [illegible] The wagons [illegible] the Indians [illegible] What [illegible] Harris being told that one of [illegible] went to him [illegible] his hand, but endeavoring to [illegible] savage shot him [illegible] fell back. With [illegible] Benton two men were murdered, but neither their money nor their papers were [illegible]. They were seen on Friday, the [illegible] supposed to be sleeping, and [illegible] between strangers not being the rule in the [illegible] the wayfarers passed on. On Monday [illegible] of their parties was attracted, and they were found to be dead. One of the parties was shot through the breast and one through [illegible]. The assassins were so close that the clothes of the victims were burnt by the powder. [illegible] Saturday, the [illegible] instant, a party of [illegible] all rigged [illegible] They professed [illegible] the whites and [illegible]

THE SUFFRAGE QUESTION.—Waddell, the son of a large slave owner in North Carolina, an original Secessionist, an earnest supporter of the war and participator in its dangers, addressing the negroes in Wilmington, used this language:

The suffrage question being a new question in the politics of this country, it remains to be settled by the proper authorities. The people of North Carolina, in the Convention soon to assemble, may pass a law prohibiting any white man from voting unless he owns a certain quantity of land or other property, or unless he has [illegible] some other thing. Many persons now think that there should be a qualification for all voters [illegible] say no one should be [illegible] unless he was possessed of a [illegible] or an interest in the soil, or [illegible] understandingly, and such is my opinion. I believe the true and just rule to be to adopt a standard of qualification for voters of some kind, either of education or property, or both, and to allow every man who could attain that standard to vote, whether he be white, black, green, yellow, red, or any other color, and to prohibit any from voting who cannot attain that standard. I must add, however, that I do not believe that a majority of my fellow citizens think and feel as I do on this subject, though I believe the time will come when my views will prevail in North Carolina. I believe that there are some colored men in this hall who could vote now with quite as intelligent a conception of what they were doing as many white men.

A BIG OIL STRIKE IN KENTUCKY.—The Louisville Democrat of September 14th says:

One of the greatest oil strikes in the United States is that which occurred a few days ago in Cumberland county, Kentucky. We have seen a dispatch and read a letter from John Nicholson, manager of the Cumberland Oil and Salt Company, [illegible] at Burksville. He states that the New York and Kentucky Oil Company had struck oil at the mouth of Crocus Creek, and that the well, when he saw it on Friday, the 8th inst. (the day oil was struck) was flowing at least 1,000 barrels per day; that some persons who saw it estimated it as high as 3,000 barrels per day. Some idea can be formed when he says it was flowing a stream sometimes from five to six feet high through an eight square, and flowing pure oil.

INFORMATION WANTED.—Mr. H. C. Perkins, of Franklin, Oregon, writes us as follows:

Having been looking over the list of passengers that drifted ashore near Crescent City, I see the name of one William Parkins among the number, and as I had a brother by the name of William H. Perkins living in San Francisco at the time of the Brother Jonathan's departure from that port, I feel very anxious to know whether the one found is my brother. Any information of William H. Perkins will be very thankfully received by letter or otherwise, at Franklin, Oregon. You will please give this publication.

COFFEE.—Who does not relish this most delicious beverage at breakfast? If you are careful to get a good article, the real simon pure Chartres, and prepare the decoction as they do in a first class New England kitchen—then smother it in cream, to drink it to dampen the palate of Juno or Vulcan, or any other man. As a practical judge of the luxury, we advise all our readers to [illegible] that prepared by Charles Bernard, who puts it up nicely browned and ground in glazed papers at No. "07" Sansome street, San Francisco. Get Bernard's and you are sure of good coffee.

We are pleased to learn that Messrs. Smith & Davis, Druggists, have just received a supply of that truly valuable medicine for quickly curing coughs and colds—Hall's Pulmonary Balsam—is sold by them at San Francisco prices—fifty cents a bottle.

THE ONLY REMEDY.—Those who suffer from foul breath are open to the charge of carelessness. It is an offence that can be speedily abated, as a single bottle of the Fragrant Sozodont will unmistakably accomplish the work. No toilet table should be without it. It will preserve and keep the teeth white and the breath pure and sweet.

Sold by all Druggists.

TO THE UNWARY.—The most prominent symptoms that indicate consumption are cough and expectoration, loss of appetite, nausea and vomiting, diarrhœa, hemorrhages or bleeding of the lungs, night sweats, hectic fever, [illegible] and finally despondency and anxiety. Now, if [illegible] indications are to combat all these symptoms, how shall it be done? Experience has demonstrated that NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP is the only remedy that can safely be relied upon for that purpose.

A Pardon for a Pistol.—A very interesting scene took place recently at the usual or weekly reception of the President. Applicants were approaching President Johnson each with his case ready, after briefly stating which, and a record being made of it by the Private Secretary, way was made for others. In the line was Banks, an enterprising young merchant of New York, and his friend Kervan, of Petersburg, a leading miller, who applied for pardon, coming as he did within the twenty thousand dollar or thirteenth clause of the amnesty proclamation. As soon as the President saw Banks he recognized him, asked him his business, and hearing that it was to ask a pardon for Kervan, he took a note of it, and told him smilingly, he would hear from him in the morning. The reason why the President recognized the young New Yorker is best explained in the following short narrative. In April of 1861, after the Senate of the United States had adjourned, Banks was going from Washington to the South, on the railroad running by Gordonsville and Petersburg. At his side was a very pleasant person, who conversed freely on the different topics of the hour, and finally asked him to change a $20 gold piece, which he did. When the cars stopped at Gordonsville there was a great and excited crowd assembled. They at once demanded, and sent one of their number into the train to see "whether Andy Johnson was on board?" "Let's hear from him!" "Drag him out!" At this moment the gentleman at the side of Banks rose and was walking to the platform to show himself when the engineer started the train and dashed off at his best speed. His companion was Andrew Johnson. As he took his seat, Banks asked him where he was going. He said "To my home at Greenville, Tennessee," "I am glad we got off from those gentlemen, Governor," said Banks. "I am sorry," said Johnson, "I wanted to tell them what I thought of secession." Banks then asked the Governor if he was armed. The reply was in the negative, when the New Yorker handed one of his fine revolvers to the Tennessee Senator, and they soon afterwards parted to meet a few days ago in the Presidential mansion. Banks has his gold piece to this day. The next morning he was sent for, and as the President met him he said: "I have often thought of you, Mr. Banks. You gave me a pistol that might have saved my life. I now give your friend Kervan a pardon to start him in business."

Touching Incidents of the Insane.—A lady correspondent furnishes the Marysville Appeal with notes of a visit to the insane at Stockton. We extract the following:

The patients are more companionable than outsiders have any idea of. Visitors frequently walk among them with a suspicious frightened air, as if they were terrified at the poor demented beings crowding around them. On the contrary I find the majority kind, loving, even caressing—desiring to converse, and be amused. Each ward is under the special care of an assistant attendant, each ward being provided with dining room, bath room, clothes room and yard. Swings are allowed them in the yard, and benches under cover. The entire comfort of the patients has been studied and provided for in their "retreat from the world." There is one among the unfortunate number, particularly attractive to me—Madame M——, an opera singer in former days—whether she has ever been upon the "boards of San Francisco" I could not learn, as she speaks very little English—but I know my heart was touched one evening as the clear melodious notes swelled out from that darkened window, and rolled along on the wings of the still twilight, in full, rich harmony. Air after air she ran through, now trilling a few measures from the sweet "La Traviata;" and at last her rich voice poured forth a part of Verdi's "Ernani." Her soft tremble of the soul part of that opera, thrilled me as it never had before from other lips. Poor bird of song! I wonder if reason could do otherwise than hold her throne, while the old memories must crowd 'round the mind as she rippled forth those strains. It is such cases that appeal most deeply for pity to the visitor. Beclouded intellect! the very thought of a rich mind, wandering and groping in the darkness of lunacy, is most pitiful!

Another object of attention to the visitor, is a little child just learning to walk, not insane, but with a crazy mother. The little infant receives the caresses and love of all the inmates, and toddles along the ward with her bright, pretty face, all unconscious she is a ray of sunshine among the insane. Everybody who pays the institution a visit remembers "little Katie."

Arbitrary Arrests.—The New York Evening Post thus happily hits off the British Government for its meddlesome conduct in regard to our treatment of the rebels:

We are surprised and grieved at the conduct of the British Government in regard to certain persons suspected of "Fenianism" in Ireland. At Dundalk five men have been arrested and refused bail. They had not committed any crime; they had met together, in a time of profound peace, without arms, for some purpose not stated before the magistrate; they were not charged or suspected of having committed any crime; and yet the Judge before whom they were arraigned not only refused to discharge them, but sent them to jail without bail! What is the boasted liberty of the British subject worth, when English Judges can thus arrest and "immure in Bastiles" innocent men charged with crime? If this kind of thing goes on much longer, it will be necessary for our Government to remonstrate with Lord Palmerston; and as soon as Congress meets it will be advisable to bring up before that body the arbitrary and tyrannical treatment of British subjects by the British Government.

The Late President on Suffrage.—The Southern Advocate of the 18th says: The following extract which has just been published, is from the late President Lincoln's letter to Gen. Wadsworth, who fell in the battle of the Wilderness:

"You desire to know in the event of our complete success in the field, the same being followed by a loyal and cheerful submission on the part of the South, if a universal amnesty should not be accompanied with universal suffrage. Now, since you know my private views as to what terms should be granted to the South in the contingency mentioned, I will here add that if our success should thus be realized and followed by such desired results, I cannot see if a universal amnesty is granted, how, under the circumstances, we can avoid exacting in return, Universal Suffrage, or at least suffrage on the basis of intelligence and military service. How to better the condition of the colored race has long been a study which has attracted my serious and careful attention. I think I am clear and decided as to what course I shall pursue in the premises, regarding it as a religious duty as guardian of these people who have so heroically vindicated their manhood on the battle field. The late slave population have demonstrated, in blood, their right to the ballot which is but the human protection of the flag they have so fearlessly defended."—Telegraph to Union.

Making Champagne.—There is in New York a house in which is displayed a sign "——, Manufacturer of Champagne." The English Wine Trade Review relates that this branch of industry is also pursued in England. A chemist has recently been purchasing low French white wine or sherry, says the New York Evening Post, with which the market is at present glutted. The operator places it in bottles of the orthodox shape, and submits it to the action of a soda water machine, by which it is copiously charged with carbonic acid, giving it the required degree of effervescence, which of course disappears soon after the bottle is opened. A tinfoil capsule and an attractive label are then added, which render this exhilarating beverage fit for the market, where, to our knowledge, it has been sold, and is now on offer.

Sword for General Butler.—As faithful chroniclers of the passing events of the day, we mention the fact that the negroes of Norfolk, Alexandria and Richmond have recently been holding meetings and collecting money for the purpose of purchasing a sword for General Butler. The sword will cost $750, bearing upon its hilt a suitable inscription, expressive of the motives which prompted the donation to that individual. Sixty dollars were raised at the First (African) Baptist Church on Monday evening.—Richmond Times, Sept. 12th.

An Attempt to Kill Governor Brown of Georgia.—The life of ex-Governor Brown of Georgia was threatened on his arrival at Knoxville, Tennessee, one day last week, by some railroad employees, who charged that he had issued an order last year for the hanging of any railroad person found in the employment of the United States. A similar scene in a more violent form was enacted on the arrival of Governor Brown at Chattanooga. The military interfered, protected the Governor, and quelled the disturbance.

Pigeon Race.—An extraordinary match of carrier pigeons has recently taken place at Brussels. Not less than five hundred and thirty-eight of these winged messengers, which had been sent to Toulouse for the purpose, were released there at one time, to contend for prizes amounting in number to eighty-two. The first pigeon arrived in Brussels in fourteen hours. The distance was three hundred leagues.

An estimate has been made by the Registrar General of the population of ten large towns in the United Kingdom in the middle of the year 1865. The estimate is as follows: London 3,015,494, borough of Liverpool, 476,368, city of Manchester 3[illegible]0, borough of Salford, 110,8[illegible], borough of Birmingham, 327,842, borough of Leeds, 224,025, city of Bristol, 161,809, city of Edinburgh, 174,180, city of Glasgow, 424,724, city of Dublin (and some suburbs), 317,666.

Consistency.—In illustration of Democratic consistency in New York, the Post is so hard hearted as to quote the following extract from a leader of The World on the Baltimore nomination of Lincoln and Johnson last year:

"The only merit we can discover in this Baltimore ticket is its merit of consistency; it is all of a piece; the tail does not shame the head nor the head shame the tail. A rail splitting buffoon and a boorish tailor, both from the backwoods, both growing up in uncouth ignorance, they would afford a grotesque subject for a satiric poet, who might celebrate them in such strains as Dean Swift bestowed on Whig Lord Dalton, or as Aristophanes on the servile demagogue, Hyperbolus."

Some of the owners of plantations in Texas are now preparing to work their estates next year by contracting with German families, who are to serve upon them occupy the houses formerly occupied by the negroes and pay four dollars an acre for the rent of the land.

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction, even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

DR. PERRAULT CONTINUES TO TREAT PRIVATE AND CHRONIC COMPLAINTS, SCROFULA, NERVOUS DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE BLOOD, SPERMATORRHEA, IMPOTENCE, STERILITY.

DR. PERRAULT is a Graduate of the University of Queen's College, and is the ONLY REGULAR GRADUATE who practices as a SPECIALIST in San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT will cure all who are afflicted with Nervous Debility, Loss of Memory and Vigor, etc., resulting from injurious habits contracted in youth, or excesses in maturity, which produce constitutional debility and premature decline.

It is a melancholy fact that thousands fall victims to disease owing to unskillful treatment and improper use of Mercury.

All cases of Gonorrhea, Gleet, Strictures, Diseases of the Bladder, Gravel, Spermatorrhea, and Impotence will be cured in a few days, without prevention from business.

To the Ladies.

Ladies suffering from Whites, Falling of the Womb, Suppression of the Menses or Profuse Flowing, Costiveness, Piles, Weakness of the Back, Pain in the Side, Headache, Palpitation, and all other Diseases to which the female system is subjected, will find prompt relief by addressing themselves to DR. PERRAULT, corner Sacramento and Montgomery streets. Private entrance on Sacramento street.

To those seeking our advice a plain statement of their case will be given, whether curable or not. All cases taken under treatment warranted. No charges for advice. No poisonous minerals or drugs to injure the constitution, no making sick to make well. Honest in our dealings, frank in our opinions, moderate in our charges. We do not invariably claim not to know everything, nor to cure everybody, but do claim to reason and common sense, and to our right to often pronounce incurable.

We particularly request those who have tried this Doctor and that scientific Physician, boasted and advertised, till worn out and discouraged to call upon us. It will cost nothing, as consultations are free.

N. B.—Persons at a distance can be cured at home by addressing a letter to DR. PERRAULT stating their case as minutely as possible, general habits of living, occupation, etc. Letters to be addressed J. PERRAULT, M. D., corner Sacramento and Montgomery streets, Rooms 10 and 11, or Box 973, Post Office, San Francisco.

DR. PERRAULT still retains the agency of DR. BIOT'S FEMALE MONTHLY PILLS. Their immense sale has established their reputation as the only safe and effectual remedy for all irregularities and obstructions in females, no matter from what cause. On receipt of five dollars these pills will be sent by Mail or Express to any part of the world, secure from curiosity or damage. se22dplm
